Academy for Healthcare Leadership

In partnership with the UCSF Leadership Institute, the KP Scholars Academy is excited to offer the Academy for Healthcare Leadership. The Academy is a six-month program for experienced health care managers, directors or project or initiative managers who aspire to serve as a senior leader within a health care organization. The Academy includes some inter-session work, six four-hour monthly leadership learning sessions, completion of a leadership project plan, as well as two coaching sessions.

Building on a foundational skill set and thorough self-exploration, the Academy will provide participants with long-lasting skills to not only navigate an ever-changing, complex health care landscape, but to lead and innovate to improve the delivery of health and patient care.

Outcomes for the Academy for Healthcare Leadership program include:

- Participants will demonstrate an increased awareness of their leadership abilities, and explore how their leadership impacts their respective unit or organization.
- Participants will demonstrate an enhanced competence of the technical skills required for effective leadership in health care including financial, human resource, change and project management, as well as succession planning.
- Participants will obtain the knowledge necessary for enhancing culture and community within their spheres of influence including increasing diversity, addressing inequities, and fostering inclusion, resiliency and wellness.
